Do you know this famous person?

* During the Revolutionary War, he was a captain, colonel, and general in different militia/armies.

* He built and received approval for many campaign strategies that had important impacts on the war.

* He was wounded in multiple battles.

* He resigned his commission many times but came back to lead troops when called.

* A monument erected in recognition to his deeds reads, in part, "the most brilliant soldier of the Continental army... winning for his countrymen the decisive battle of the American Revolution."

* He received little to no credit at the time due to bad feelings between him and his commander.

* In July 1780, he commanded the fort at West Point.

So, who was this "hero" of the Revolutionary War?

Does the name "Benedict Arnold" ring a bell?

Operations Security (OPSEC) is important. Treat the information that you have access to correctly. Will you be able to spot the next Benedict Arnold?

Defense Security Service (DSS)
National Security is our Mission